This Is My Story

Hi guys. So I wanted to share the story of how the Rapture Puzzle book came to be and a little of my testimony with you. I was born into the Moses family in the year of 1973, when abortion became legalized in the United States and the babies started to be murdered, just as Moses was born at a time when the baby boys were being killed in his nation. The name my parents gave to me was Renee, which means "reborn".

I was brought up in a Christian home. When I was a young child of about 4 or 5 years old, I heard an audible voice call me 3 times. Each time, I would go to my mother and ask her what she wanted, and each time she told me that she had not called me. She said maybe someone outside was calling me, so I went to look, but no one was there and I knew the voice was coming from within the house and my mom was the only person at home. A few years later, my Sunday School teacher told me the story of Samuel and how the Lord had called him 3 times and each time he thought Eli was the one calling to him, but it was actually the Lord Himself who was calling Samuel's name. I told my Sunday School teacher that the same thing had happened to me and her response to me was, "Perhaps the Lord has a very special calling on your life, just like Samuel did." I also remember as a young child hearing that the Lord would speak to Moses as a friend and I can remember feeling insanely jealous and wishing so much that the Lord would also speak to me as a friend.

I turned away from Christianity at the age of 12 and became very rebellious and full of anger and selfishness. I hated Christianity because of the Lord's teaching about having to forgive people and to "turn the other cheek", which I felt was really for wimps and left me no room to get revenge on those who had hurt me. I was actually being bullied and wanted to defend myself, but felt as if Christianity did not allow me to do so and so I allowed people to beat on me without raising a finger to defend myself. I eventually became so full of hatred that I even hated my own life and wanted to end it. Two weeks before my planned suicide, I heard someone speaking about eternity and became very afraid of spending eternity suffering in hell. I cried out to God to just give me one reason to live so I would not kill myself, but told Him that I did not want to be a Christian because I did not want to have to forgive people who hurt me and be nice to people who were mean to me. I told God that if He would simply give me something to live for, that when I was old and about to die that I would then become a Christian so that I could have eternal life and not go to hell. The moment I said that, I felt a warm presence come into me and felt goose bumps all over my body. It felt like someone was hugging me and I felt loved. I heard a voice say my name and tell me that they loved me. I knew that could not be my own voice because I simply did not love myself at all. I went home and began to speak to this voice and ask questions and the voice answered every question I had. I had finally found what I was always looking for – a friendship with God. It started when I was just 13 years old, and has grown into a true love affair with my Creator. I have now been a Christian for almost 40 years and have been in full-time ministry for almost 30 years. I have an amazing husband and 5 wonderful children who all love Jesus.

The relationship that I have with the Lord has led me through many decisions I have made throughout my life. Hearing His voice and following what He has told me to do has led me to where I am at today. I could give numerous examples of how the Lord spoke to me to do something and I obeyed and it led to great reward or He told me that something would take place and it happened exactly as He said it would or instances where He just led me to do something or not to do something and it turned out to be the right decision. I cannot tell you of any incidences where He spoke to me and it was not true or led me into making a terrible decision that I later regretted. He has always led me into all truth and made my path straight as I have followed His voice.

When I was in high school, I was incredibly gifted at mathematics. I was on the Math Academic Games Team and our team won the State Championship, which gave me a full scholarship to our local college. My math teacher was chosen as the Teacher of the Year for the entire state. Another math teacher I had in high school told me I was the best math student he had ever taught and strongly encouraged me to do something with my mathematical skills in my career. But my heart was to be a missionary and reach the unreached people in the world, so I decided to give up my full-tuition scholarship and go to Bible College instead. I mention this because I want to give glory to God, who gifted me with these mathematical abilities so that I was able to understand the puzzle and the "shortening of the days" of the Great Tribulation that Jesus spoke about in Matthew 24.

So I want to share with you what took place in December 2000 that all led to me writing and finishing the Rapture Puzzle Book. This book has been a work in progress and I started writing it back in 2012, so it took over 13 years to complete. I am still adding small sections to the book as the Lord continues to show me things. I started studying and researching all the way back in January 2001 so it took me more than 25 years to put all of the pieces of the puzzle in place.

Anyway, back to December 2000. This is when the Lord started to give me the puzzle pieces. At the time, I had no idea that He was giving me pieces to a puzzle and it would not be until February 2013 that I would finally figure that out. For 12 years, I felt so confused and even as if the Lord had deceived me somehow because I did not understand that He was only giving me puzzle pieces that would all come together to point to very specific dates for the rapture events and Second Coming of Christ to the earth. From December 2000 until December 2012, I thought the Lord was showing me the date of the rapture and did not realize He was only giving me pieces to a big puzzle that would eventually all fit together.

So, in December 2000, the Lord came to me while I was praying and told me that He was coming to me as He came to Solomon and would give me one thing. He told me to think carefully before I decided because He would give me whatever I asked of Him. After considering for some time what to ask, I came back to Him with my 2 greatest desires. The first was that when I stood before Him on Judgment Day that I would stand before Him with a pure heart and that He would be pleased with how I had lived my life. My second greatest desire was that He would use my life to reach millions of people for His Kingdom. I could not decide which desire was greater until I thought of the verse that says you can gain the whole world but lose your own soul. I considered that it could be possible for me to win the world for Christ and in the process lose my own soul. So I told the Lord that if I could only choose one thing, it would be the first. He told me that I had chosen wisely.

He then asked me, "If you are the least in My Kingdom for all eternity and if everyone throughout all eternity thinks very little of you, but if I am pleased with you, would that be OK with you?" That was a very hard question for me to answer as I wanted to be considered great in His Kingdom and did not want anyone to look down on me, especially for all eternity. But I realized what was truly important was that the Lord was pleased with me and that it did not matter if anyone else was. So, I finally told Him, "Yes, that would be OK with me."

Very shortly after this took place, I had a dream about my grandma who had died about 9 years earlier. I was so close to her and she had a tremendous influence on my life. The dream was so real and it seemed as if I had spent the entire night just talking to her and with her. When I woke up, my heart felt so happy as if I had really been with her. One thing we used to do together often was put puzzles together. She loved doing puzzles. I didn't love puzzles that much at the time, but I just loved spending time with her so would join her in those huge puzzles that would take weeks to finish. My love for puzzles started during those many hours we worked on them together. Little did I know at that time that the Lord was about to give me the greatest puzzle of all time to put together and that He was about to give me the first piece to that puzzle.

Shortly after the dream, the Lord spoke to me and said that January 1 represents the Gentile Feast of Trumpets and start of the New Millennium. I was not much into Bible prophecy, but I had heard about the Feast of Trumpets and knew some Christians taught that the rapture would happen on the Feast of Trumpets, so I wondered if the Lord was telling me that the rapture would happen on January 1, which was just days away. I was very excited. Nothing happened and I wondered what He meant. On January 4, at around 1 am, the Lord spoke to me and said these words: "You will be as John the Baptist and will write something that will help save millions of people from the coming deception. Just as My voice is like a trumpet and the last day of Creation that I spoke was the sixth day, so also at the end of the sixth day and start of the seventh, the last trumpet will sound. Wait up for Me to come to you at the end of the sixth day." I remember waking up my husband and telling him what the Lord has spoken to me. I then went downstairs and called my parents and my sisters living in America and told them what the Lord had said. I was overwhelmed. I remember feeling like Mary, when the angel appeared to her and told her that she would give birth to Jesus, the Son of God. I felt like, why did the Lord choose me? I am not anyone special, just an ordinary person. The Lord was not only giving me the first desire of my heart but also the second. He was going to use me to help save millions of people.

I wrote a letter and sent it out to many end-time prophecy ministries and people that I knew telling them that the rapture would take place at the end of January 6 or start of January 7. I assumed that was what the Lord was telling me and that somehow by just writing that letter, millions of people would come to know the Lord. I had no idea at the time that He was just giving me puzzle pieces and starting me on a 25-year journey. I waited up on January sixth and was just having a wonderful conversation with the Lord. I can remember telling Him just before midnight that I was starting to get sleepy and asking when He would come. He told me just to wait a little longer. A few minutes after midnight, I was looking out the window sitting on my couch when suddenly my entire body began to shake violently. This lasted for maybe a minute or so. It started suddenly and ended suddenly. My first thought was that perhaps the dead in Christ had just resurrected and now we were about to be raptured. I asked the Lord what the shaking was and He told me to just wait. A minute or so later, my body began to shake violently again. During this second shaking, my mouth began to tingle, like the feeling you get when your foot falls asleep, but the feeling was in my mouth, and especially around my lips. I asked the Lord why my lips were tingling and He said it represented when Isaiah saw the Lord and the coals touched his lips and his sin was atoned for. The shaking stopped suddenly. I was overwhelmed and wondered what it all meant. I wondered if the rapture had just happened and I had been left behind. I had so many questions. I felt the Lord wrap His loving arms around me and felt like He was hugging me. He assured me of His love for me and told me that I needed to study the Jewish festivals and that I could go to bed.

I assumed He would explain everything to me the next morning so I went to bed and fell asleep. The next day came and went with no explanation. And every day came and went for nearly 12 years with no explanation. I knew what the Lord had said and I studied the feasts and I tried to figure everything out, but I just couldn't. I felt very alone and confused during those 12 years and the Lord just kept telling me to wait and that one day all of my questions would be answered and I would understand everything. The only thing that really happened during those 12 years was that the Church of the Nativity was raided in the spring of 2002, 1290 days before the Day of Atonement in 2005. The Lord showed me that this was the temple fortress that was desecrated by armed forces and was the holy place referred to by Jesus in Matthew 24. I knew that one day, the abomination that causes desolation would take place there. Other than that, I knew the seventh day was significant and also discovered that we were living at the end of 6000 years since the Creation, ready to start the New Millennium. I still did not know that all of these things were pieces in a puzzle.

The Lord began to speak to me again about these things in July 2012, when He asked if I was ready to dance with Him. He led me to the seventh day of Tabernacles. It was at this time in August of 2012 when I started my YouTube channel. Once again, I assumed He was telling me that the rapture would happen on the seventh day of Tabernacles. When it did not, I became angry and asked the Lord why He was deceiving me. After a couple of days of being angry and hurt, I came back to the Lord and told Him I was sorry for my terrible attitude and asked for His forgiveness. He asked if I was ready to continue. I was shocked. I thought I was finished and it was all just some sort of test to see if I would obey and follow Him even if it seemed that He was deceiving me. So I told Him that yes, I was ready to continue – still totally unaware that all of these things were puzzle pieces that He was giving to me that would eventually all make sense several years later. The next date He pointed me to was the seventh day of Hanukkah. I'm sure you can already guess – nothing happened on that day either. But by this time, I was starting to get the sense that it was leading somewhere.

On February 14, 2013, I went to my ministry center and someone came into my office and gave me a gift. They said someone had just stopped by and asked that the gift be given to me. One of my daughters was in the office with me and asked what I thought it was. I just blurted out, "It's a puzzle." I have no idea how I knew that, but I just felt that it was a puzzle, even though I had never been given a puzzle before as a gift. I opened it, and sure enough, it was a puzzle. I thought, well that's strange. No name. No idea who it was from. I went home and put it together in just a few hours. It was the strangest puzzle I had ever done with no corner pieces or edge pieces and all of the pieces were different shapes and sizes. Some of the pieces were huge and others were tiny. It was a beautiful puzzle and as I looked at it, I felt the Lord's presence. I remembered my grandmother and the dream I had had. I realized it was Valentine's Day. And that's when I realized this was all a puzzle and the Lord was just giving me one piece at a time and that one day, it would all come together and make perfect sense.

It was in the same month of February 2013, when Mr. Obama announced his plan to go to Jerusalem. There was a lot of talk on some prophecy websites about him possibly standing at the Temple Mount and that being the abomination of desolation. I started to read that some people thought that 2009 was the start of Daniel's seventieth week and saw that Mr. Obama had been chosen as the Nobel Peace Prize winner on the seventh day of Tabernacles in 2009 and then given the award just a few hours before the start of Kislev 24. I saw that Haggai 2 pointed to those exact dates in reference to the Lord shaking the heavens and the earth and bringing the desired of all nations to Himself. I counted 1260 days from when Mr. Obama was chosen as the Nobel Peace Prize winner and came to March 22, 2013. I said to myself, if Mr. Obama goes to Bethlehem and stands at the grotto in the Church of the Nativity on that date, then that is the abomination of desolation and that means desolation is right after that, which should include the rapture event. But at that time, Mr. Obama had only mentioned about going to Jerusalem and nothing about going to Bethlehem. When he finally announced his plans to go to the Church of the Nativity, I could not believe it. It was finally happening.

Some of you may be wondering how in the world Mr. Obama standing at the grotto was an abomination to the Lord and also how it stopped the daily sacrifice. Well, every single day, hundreds and often thousands of people from all over the world line up at the Church of the Nativity to offer a sacrifice of praise and offering of thanksgiving to the Lord for coming to the earth to pay for their sins and give them eternal life. This is a sacrifice that is pleasing to the Lord. On the day that Mr. Obama and his entourage went there, no one else was allowed to enter. The sacrifice of praise and offering of thanksgiving stopped on that day, and I can assure you that he did not go there to offer his praise or gratitude to Jesus for coming to the earth. While we do not know what might have happened as he stood at the grotto, what I am certain of is that his heart was not humble and he did not offer any thanks to Jesus or acknowledge him as the Lord. I'm sure one day we will all know exactly what Mr. Obama said, whether it was out loud or only in his private thoughts, that was such an abomination to the Lord on that day. Whatever it was, it was such an abomination to the Lord that it started a 40-day countdown to the desolation of America and much of the world.

After this abomination took place, the Lord then pointed me to the seventh day of Unleavened Bread. I counted the days, and saw that the 1260 and 1335-day counts should start 40 days from when the abomination was going to take place until when the desolation would occur – He was giving a 40-day grace period to America just like He did to Ninevah. I counted 1290 days from the abomination date and it reached the Feast of Trumpets in 2016. I counted 1260 days from the seventh day of Unleavened Bread on God's calendar and it reached the Day of Atonement in 2016. I counted 1335 days from the same day and it reached the start of Hanukkah in 2016. Daniel 12 tells us that those who reach the end of the 1335 days will be blessed and Haggai 2 tells us that up until the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, or Hanukkah Eve, no fruit is found on the fig tree, but that from this day forward we will be blessed. The blessed day is the first day of Hanukkah at the end of a 1335-day count. All of the numbers fit. I was so excited.

But May 2, 2013, came and went without any rapture or desolation event. Once again, I was so confused. But too many pieces of the puzzle fit together for me to just throw out the puzzle and say it was not right. I had to be missing something, but what was it?

About 5 months later, in October 2013, I was once again expressing my frustration to the Lord and asking Him why He did not come when the Scriptures so clearly pointed to May 2, 2013. I said, "Ninevah repented and you delayed your judgment. This puzzle only makes sense if America repented, but they did not repent, so why did you delay Your judgment?" The Lord replied, "Are you sure there was no repentance?" I said, "Yes I am quite certain I would have heard about it if America had repented." He said, "You are missing something important. Find it." That gave me hope – maybe I had missed something. So I typed into Google something like "America repents May 2013" and found a site that was talking about this 3-day period of prayer and fasting that started on April 30 and lasted until May 2, 2013. On April 24, 2013, a 3-day fast was called by the leaders of the church around the world and at least 28 nations participated in this fast. I saw how that believers from all over the world had cried out to the Lord on those 3 days asking for Him to have mercy on America. April 30 was the National Day of Repentance in America and May 2 was the National Day of Prayer in America. A worldwide cry went up to the Lord for 3 days asking for God to have mercy on America right at the end of the 40-day probationary period. I cried. I laughed. I had found the missing piece. Then the Lord said, "Remember Esther." I thought of how she was the chosen virgin Bride who represents the Bride of Christ and how she asked her people to fast for 3 days because they were all about to be killed. On the third day of the fast she risked her life and approached the King to try to save her people from annihilation and in the end, her request was granted and her people were spared. I saw the foreshadowing of the story of Jonah and of Esther and realized that the Lord was delaying His judgment. And then I saw in Matthew 25 and Revelation 10 that this delay is found in the Scriptures. So I set out to figure out when this delay would end.
All of the pieces pointed to 2016 as the end of Daniel's seventieth week. The Lord was simply delaying His judgment as He said He would do in Matthew 25 and in Revelation 10 and shortening the days of the tribulation as He said in Matthew 24.

When Hanukkah of 2016 came and went, I figured it was all over. Obviously, we were not in Daniel's seventieth week yet and all of these events that took place between 2009 and 2013 must have just been a foreshadow of what was going to take place in the future. But somehow I knew that was not right and I knew the Lord had shown me these things and that I must be still missing something.

It has now been more than 9 years since then. For over 9 years, I have been trying to figure out where we are on God's timeline. I believe the two shakings that I had on the night of January 7, 2001, were meant to point to the seventh day counting from the Feast of Trumpets and the Day of Atonement three days later. In Daniel's seventieth week, each day is equal to a year. The first shaking I had that night represents the seventh year of the puzzle. If you read my book you will see that 2016 was the seventh year in the puzzle. But just as we saw foreshadowed twice in the Old Testament a period of seven years that were doubled (stories of Jacob and Joseph) and we also saw twice in the Old Testament where the Feast of Unleavened Bread and the Feast of Tabernacles were doubled from seven days to fourteen days, so also I believe the Lord doubled Daniel's seventieth week to two seven-year periods, rather than just one. We see in the book of Jubilees that Adam and Eve were in the garden for seven years before they fell. I believe that 2016, the end of the first week of Daniel's seventieth week was the end of the 6000 years from Creation. I believe that 2023 was the Year of Jubilee and end of the 6000 years from the fall of man.

However, the Lord added 3 more days (years) to His amazing puzzle. This was foreshadowed to us in Daniel 1, when Daniel and his friends went through a three-year training period before they could enter the King's service. It was also foreshadowed to us in the story of Hanukkah, when the Jewish people fled into the mountains for 3 years before the temple was cleansed during Hanukkah in 165 B.C.

The seventh year of the second seven-year period (2023) was to have been the time of a great shaking event, but it was moved to the tenth year (2026), which represents the Day of Atonement. This is when we see the Lord and our sin is atoned for, just as Isaiah saw the Lord and his sin was atoned for.

This ten-year wait from 2016 was foreshadowed to us in Daniel 1, wherein Daniel and his friends endure a ten-day period of testing in order to not defile themselves. We see another ten-day period mentioned in Revelation 2:10, wherein those who remain faithful to Christ receive the crown of life. We read in Revelation 14 about those who do not defile themselves who are offered as firstfruits to the Lord and taken to the heavenly Mt. Zion. Hebrews 12 speaks of this heavenly Mt. Zion and those who escape at the time of the shaking of the heavens and the earth.

I believe that 2026 is the "Day of the Lord" and for those taken in the firstfruits rapture, it will be the year that we see Him face to face and our sin is atoned for. For those who are left-behind to endure the Great Tribulation, which has been shortened from 3.5 years to just 5 weeks, they will have to wait until January 3, 2027, the twenty-fifth day of Kislev on God's calendar before being taken to be with the Lord.

Scriptures show us that from the opening of the Abyss at the time of the first woe there was to have been 5 months (see Revelation 9). These 5 months line up with clues given to us in Revelation 9 that show us that the sun will be in the Leo constellation when the Abyss opens, followed by the Virgo, Libra, Scorpio and Sagittarius constellations. It is during the time that the sun is in the Sagittarius constellation that the time of the "scorpions" of Revelation 9 will be defeated when Christ rescues His left-behind saints, the two witnesses of Revelation 11, at the start of Hanukkah on God's calendar. Then, just as the sun enters the Capricorn constellation, Christ will return to the earth with His Bride after a 2-week wedding celebration during the Feast of Hanukkah on God's calendar.

I believe this final "Day of the Lord" started on the seventh day of Tabernacles in 2025, when Mr. Trump signed a peace agreement in Egypt that was supposed to have ended the war in Gaza, and will end on the fourteenth day of Hanukkah on January 16, 2027, a 460-day period. According to the fourth trumpet judgment of Revelation 8, 1/3 of the "day" and 1/3 of the "night" is darkened. I believe the Scriptures are showing us that counting from the start of the "Day of the Lord" on the seventh day of Tabernacles on October 13, 2025, until the end of the "Day of the Lord" on the fourteenth day of Hanukkah on January 16, 2027, the final 1/3 of this time period was to have been a time of great darkness on the earth as the firstfruits Bride of Christ was to have been taken to be with the Lord and the Abyss was to have opened for 5 months (153 days). The final 1/3 of these days began on August 16, 2026, at the time of the Firstfruits of New Wine festival.

There is a great deal of foreshadowing in the Scriptures pointing us to August 16, 2026, as the time when the firstfruits rapture was to have taken place and the Great Tribulation was to have started. Jesus told us that straightaway with the tribulation of those days, the sun would be darkened, moon would not give its light and stars would fall from the sky. This rare sign appeared on August 12/13, 2026, 3 days before what was supposed to have been the firstfruits rapture and start of a 153-day period of judgment on the earth in which the left-behind saints would have had to endure 140 days (3.5 X 40) of Great Tribulation before the main harvest rapture at the start of Hanukkah on January 3, 2027.

However, there was still room for further delay in the puzzle. The Lord has cut off another 2/3 of this time period and of the 153 days measured out as a time of darkness on the earth, only the final 51 days will be a time of judgment. These final 51 days begin on Thanksgiving Day (November 26, 2026), the seventeenth day of Chesvan on God's calendar. The seventeenth day of Chesvan is the day when Adam and Eve fell and is also the day when the flood started in Noah's day. Jesus told us that as it was in the days of Noah, so it would be at the coming of the Son of Man. There will be a 3-day period of darkness at the opening of the Abyss (first woe of Revelation 9) on November 26, 2026, followed by the firstfruits rapture event on November 29, 2026. The five months mentioned in Revelation 9 have been shortened to just 5 weeks for the left-behind saints.

Revelation 2:10 tells us that there will be “10 days of tribulation”. This will be multiplied by a “time, times and half a time” for a total of 35 days, or 5 weeks. Not only has the Lord cut off 2/3 of the 153 days, but He has also cut off ¾ of the 140 days that the left-behind saints would have had to endure. The 35 days of Great Tribulation for the left-behind saints start on November 29, 2026, and end on January 3, 2027, at the start of Hanukkah on God’s calendar at the time of the main harvest rapture.

Baruch was the scribe for Jeremiah the prophet. He wrote 2 books himself, called the first and second Books of Baruch. These 2 books were originally included in the Septuagint as well as the Catholic Bible, but were not included in the Protestant version of the Bible. In 2 Baruch 26, we read: That tribulation which will be will it last a long time; and that distress, will it embrace many years?” The Lord then goes on to tell Baruch that the time of tribulation will only be for 7 weeks and gives us further indication of a 5½ week period of judgment as well. Counting from November 26, 2026, at the opening of the Abyss, to January 3, 2027, the start of Hanukkah and main harvest rapture event, we have a period of 5½ weeks. Counting from November 29, 2026, at the time of the firstfruits rapture event, to January 17, 2027, at the Second Coming of Christ to the earth, we have a 7-week period. The Lord is showing us that there will not be a 7-year period of judgment, but rather a 7-week period. He is shortening the days to as little as Scripturally possible for the sake of His elect.

I believe we will witness the first woe on November 26, 2026, and first rapture/harvest on November 29, 2026, followed by the second woe on December 31, 2026, and second rapture/harvest on January 3, 2027. I believe the third woe will be the Second Coming of Christ to the earth at the end of the two-week wedding festival of Hanukkah and will take place on January 17, 2027. I believe this event was foreshadowed to us with the resurrection of Christ on the seventeenth day of the first month and Noah’s ark coming to rest on the seventeenth day of the first month. I believe the Bride of Christ will be crowned as co-rulers of the earth with King Jesus on the seventh day of Hanukkah on January 9, 2027, as was foreshadowed to us by the chosen virgin Esther being crowned as Queen on what would become the seventh day of Hanukkah. I encourage you to read my book or the summary of the book to see how the Scriptures lay out this puzzle for us that lead to these exact dates for the 3 woe events of Revelation. May God bless you and I look forward to meeting you soon!
